

C&G Wastewater, known as C&G Depurazione Industriale Srl, is a manufacturer of industrial water and industrial wastewater treatment systems, including industrial wastewater evaporators.

Our wastewater evaporators are constructed using high quality metals sourced in Europe and have many options including alternative energy, stainless steel, explosion proof systems and many more.

C&G has been a pioneer in evaporator technology since 1979 and has developed industrial wastewater treatment systems for export throughout Europe, Asia, Middle East and the Americas. C&G is currently expanding its North American sales through export and is providing marketing assistance to its reps.
